

^ NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA IS WHERE
BIG IDEAS ARE BORN. ^

Business start-ups have to consider many things when entering self-employment. Whether it is how to deal with the authorities or how to respond to business questions – getting the answers right when starting your own business requires one thing above all: the necessary experience. As fledgling businesses don't always have all the answers, it is good to have a reliable partner who can answer the key questions about setting up in business.

STARTERCENTER NRW, established jointly by the Chambers of Crafts, the Chambers of Industry and Commerce and the local economic development agencies are some of those partners – and are also externally certified on a regular basis to ensure the quality of their advice.
